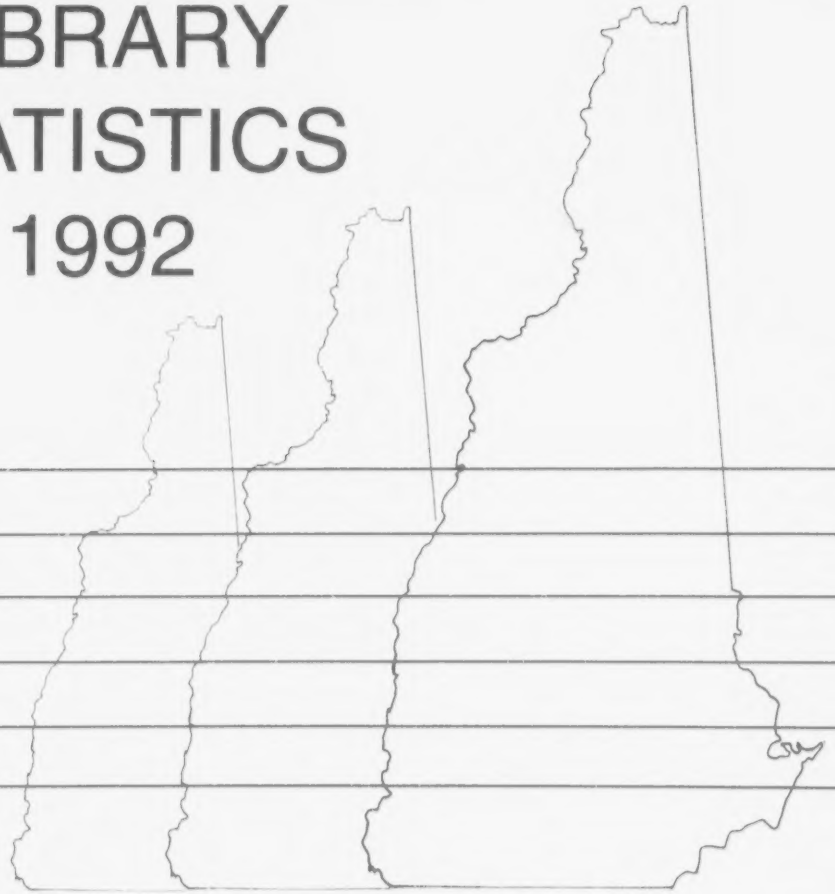
NEW HAMPSHIRE LIBRARY STATISTICS 1992



NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE LIBRARY

INTRODUCTION

The public library statistics are based on the annual reports sent to and completed by the public libraries each year. In addition to this report, the information from the annual reports is used to compile the State Library's yearly report to the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) for its Federal/State Cooperative System (FSCS). The report from this cooperative venture is published yearly in the form of "Ed Tabs," in both paper and electronic formats. In the years the State Library has sent statistics to NCES we have not had a complete report as there are still libraries that either do not send their reports by the deadline or who do not send a report at all. Some of the latter may be reconstructed from town reports for NCES, but we continue to have an incomplete picture of the state's public libraries. This year is no exception although we continue to improve. Summary findings are based on the total population and are affected by libraries that do not report and those areas without library service. The Comparative Tables are based on libraries reporting and provide a more accurate picture.

Again this year we have listed all the public libraries in New Hampshire, indicating the town and the population of the community in which the library is located. In towns with more than one library the population figure is given once. The libraries are grouped under the community's name although in some instances the mailing addresses are different.

In Andover and Hopkinton, one of the two libraries was designated as a branch; there is one report for each town. Other communities with branch libraries are so indicated (*). RSA 202-A:2 states that a public library "provides regular...library service." As the library in Randolph is only open part of the year and the library located in Lower Gilmanton is open "by appointment" neither is included in this year's report. We were also informed that the library in Croydon had been closed in March because of lack of funding; there is a report from them for 1992. Those towns whose reports arrived too late for inclusion or did not report at all have been listed with the notation "no report received."

NEW THIS YEAR

We have continued our section on libraries by county, giving population served by those libraries (not the full population of the county). We do have one peculiarity in this section; the Hall Memorial Library is supported by and provides service to the towns of Northfield and Tilton. Northfield is in Merrimack county; Tilton is in Belknap county. As the library is physically located in Northfield, it is listed there and is given under Merrimack county.

Under the population groupings we have added another output measure - reference transactions per capita - as this was easy to calculate with the information already given. In the technology section of the annual report we also asked for information on CD-ROM and circulation systems. These results are included. And, as we now list children's program attendance separately for NCES, those figures are given.

DEFINITIONS OF TERMS AND QUALIFIERS

In the statistical compilations by population category the following definitions and qualifiers should be noted. These are dictated by definitions accepted by NCES, as the same figures are used for both reports.

CIRCULATION - The figures are the total for the adult, juvenile and other circulation that includes books, serials and non-book materials.

POPULATION - The resident population figures are those prepared by the New Hampshire Office of State Planning in its August 1992 publication 1991 Population Estimates of New Hampshire Cities and Towns.

HOURS - The hours listed are those which the library is open to the public and are the yearly total.

STAFF FTE's - These are defined by NCES as "ALA accredited MLS," "total librarians (including MLS)," and "total paid staff." The county section lists only the total paid staff. The population groupings include "volunteers" to arrive at the "total staff" figures; although there are fewer volunteers, they are still an important part of our public libraries' services. The total staff hours, in all categories, are divided by 40 to arrive at the FTE (full-time equivalent).

INTERLIBRARY LOAN (ILL) - This refers to those materials loaned to or borrowed from other libraries.

NET LOAN - This means the difference between the number of loaned and borrowed materials and may be a negative number.

INCOME SOURCES - (In communities having more than one library, the income for each library is listed separately). Branches are not considered separate libraries.

local support column refers to the amount of funding provided by the municipality in support of the library.

trust fund income is that which comes from trust funds held by the board of library trustees and/or the town trustees of trust funds.

other includes all fines, fees, gifts, and money from any other sources reported by the library.

PER CAPITA - Financial support, reference transactions, and circulation is figured by adding together the total income or total circulation of all the libraries in a community and dividing this total by the population of the community. Reference Transactions per capita, added this year, are calculated in the same manner.

It should also be noted that in some communities the salaries are not considered part of the library appropriation at Town Meeting; these have been added to the income column for NCES and will show as such in this report. The other problem with total income expenditures comes under the "benefits" section. For some libraries it is included in the salary figure; others have it paid separately by the municipality. When the figure is known it is given, no matter what entity paid it. For those libraries where it is part of the salary, indication is given to acknowledge it (). When these benefits are paid by the municipality it may show that the library expended more than its income.

The Durham Public Library is located in the Dimond Library at the University of New Hampshire. Many services of the Dimond Library are used by the patrons of this public library and many of the expenses that would be expected of a public library are paid by the University. The figures given for the Durham Public Library reflect town support for the "browse" collection - popular and juvenile materials rather than scholarly.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES BY COUNTY, 1992

This is a different way of looking at and comparing library services in New Hampshire; as county government is traditionally not strong in this state and we have no "county library systems," we seldom compare our neighbors in this manner. It does, however, provide an interesting approach.

The column listed "support" includes all monies given in the annual report for the support of the library whether from municipal sources, trust fund income and/or fines, fees and gifts.

In towns with multiple library outlets, the hours, income, staff and circulation are listed separately for each library, but the per capita circulation and support figures given are from town total divided by town population. The figure given for county population includes only one total per town with multiple outlets and the per capita figures for the county are based on that rather than total for county (not every country has a library in every community).
